

Doomsday Preppers

Doomsday Preppers is a young ensemble from Oslo with musicians from Norway and Germany. They play dynamic and vigorous melodies post-apocalyptic solos, dedicated to all the people preparing for doomsday. Inbetween stocking up on canned food, drinking water and batteries, the band is having fun playing extrovert music which shows that there is always space for jazz, even if the end of the world is near.

Helter Shelter is the debut album of the Norwegian - German quartet and features 10 original compositions with titles like «15 Ways to Make Fire Without Matches» and «Blablalarmageddon». This might be associated with dark doomsday thoughts, but their music is playful and energetic with references to free jazz, contemporary nordic jazz, and 20th century classical music.

Doomsday Preppers:

Richard Köster - trumpet

Johannes Fosse Solvang - trombone

Håkon Norby Bjørgo – double bass

Knut Kvifte Nesheim – drums